You got married to Mike when you were 22 years old. You met him at the club downtown when you were 21 years old. He looked so sexy, so you fell in love with him at the first sight. You talked to him and you danced with him and kissed with him. It was an amazing night for you. The next day, you got a call from him and had dinner together. After a while, you and Mike started dating and one year later, Mike said to you, "I love you. Would you marry me?" And you replied, yes.

Mike was nice to you and made you happy. You and Mike spent a great time for the first few years.

However, the happy days did not last long. The more days passed, the colder you and Mike's relationship got. You and Mike often argued about small matters and you could not stand the situation. Finally you decided to divorce him and told him about that.

"Mike, our relationship is not good any more. I think I don't love you. We should divorce."

Mike agreed with your suggestion, and Mike and you divorced. You were 26 years old. After then you spent time by yourself for a while, but sometimes you felt lonely. In such a case, you spent time with your friends.

Three years later, if you decided to take something action, go to page 5.

If you decided to spend your life by yourself more, go to page 7.

You go to STARBUCKS COFFEE every lunch time. You have nothing to spend the lunch time, though you usually read books or check the reports of the work. Time hangs heavy on your hands. You look around vaguely, and you find a man is looking at you. You think it's just an accident because you don't know him, so you turn around. Few minutes later, you still feel something strange atmosphere and you glance at the direction of eyes, meet his gaze. He's gazing at you as expected.

After a while, he approaches you and says "Hi, miss...My name is Kevin. Actually, I always come here to see you. I know this is strange but you're amazing woman!! I seem to fall in love with you at first sight..."

You are staggered to the news. After a short silence, you start to say, "I'm afraid I don't know who you are, and can't believe what you said."

You remembered Kevin when you got home. "I don't know him well, but he looked good and I think he is the same age as me. It means we have a lively conversation. I will perhaps be in good with him. This may be the chance of a lifetime."

After you had several dates with him, you found out that he was kind, honesty and also he afforded to rear a family. You and Kevin naturally got married in a year.

Go to the next page.

It has passed few months since you got new life with him. One day, you notice that he seems to have something he wants to tell to you.

If you wait until he tell you what he wants to say, go to page 6.

If you ask him directly, go to page 15.

You divorced Mike, but you still keep in touch with him and sometimes meet him. One day, you call him.

You say, "I have an important talk to you, so can you meet to me from now on?"

After calling, you visit him.

He says, "What is your important talk?"

You can't begin to talk because you are afraid of his response to your talk at all.

After a while, you decide to say that you got pregnant and you want to bear your baby. He doesn't say anything. He thinks what it is for a while.

He says, "Are you sure that your baby's father is me?"

You say, "Yes...."

He shouts, "Wow! It's unbelievable!"

Although you say that the baby's father is he many times, he doesn't believe.

At last, you begin to get angry with crying. He remains silent. Then, when you are going to leave him, he tells you he wants to marry you again. You are surprised, lose your language and are troubled by the reply. However, you will agree with him.

Afterwards, you will start a new life with him and your baby. There may be a lot of hardship in the future, but you will live with a family happily!

End

You've been spending boring days since you divorced Mike. When you are shopping with your friend, you unexpectedly meet your childhood friend. He hasn't changed at all. You call him, "Hey Justin."

He says, "Wow Jessie! Long time no see! We haven't seen each other for a long time!"

You say, "Yeah, it has been for six years! Where have you been?"

He says, "I've been in Italy for six years and I came back to home!"

You say, "Really? How was it?"

He says, "It was great. By the way, I heard that you are married."

You say, "No more..."

He didn't know that but she didn't look a poor woman. He asks you to come to a party where you can meet men.

You say, "I will think about it."

You look forward to meeting a new man so you consider going to the party very much. You tell your friends about it. Your friends recommend attending the party. They say, "You should go there and get a better new husband!!"

Do you want to go to the party? Go to page 8.

If you are not interested in the party. Go to page 3.

One day, he suggests to you that you insure yourself against unexpected accidents. You wonder at his suggestion because it hasn't passed so long time since you got married. Now, you love him and trust him, so you agree with him in spite of expensive premium. It's about 500,000 dollars!!! This amount of money is too high so you sometimes take care about his attitude. Nothing happens or he has become tenderer and tenderer day by day. His nice attitude makes you think that he is really good person and has not schemes.

On your first wedding anniversary, you're going to a solitary house in the mountains to spend the time only of you and Kevin. This is his idea.

"He always thinks about me. We can spend romantic time!!!" you thought.

On that night, the tragedy happened. He took out a knife and plunged the knife into your chest.

You mumbled in tears, "Why!? I trusted you..."

"I'm sorry, honey. But I've been waiting for this time", he whispered in her ear with a faint smile.

Unfortunately, nobody watched this murder, and he could receive the insurance without being suspected.

End

You are getting used to living by yourself. You do not feel like getting a new boyfriend. You want to get a big job and success the job as well, so you try to work hard. Harder you work, more you enjoy at your work.

When you are day off, you hang out with your friends and usually have dinner and go to a club together.

One day, when you are working, you feel sick, so you go to the bathroom and feel sickness at your stomach. You notice that your period is late.

"I might get pregnant... Oh my god, I do not know what to do"

You leave your work soon and go and see a doctor. Your doctor says that you are getting pregnant. Your baby is already 3 months. You turn pale with fear. You have to think about many things such as your baby, yourself, your baby's father and your future. You do not know if you should bear the baby or not. You are at a loss, so you decide to call your mother because she is very reliable for you anytime.

"I went to a doctor and he said I got pregnant. I think my baby's father is Mike. I don't know what to do, mom", you said to your mother with crying. Your mother says, "My sweetie, you are already adult. Decide by yourself. I respect your decision whether you bear your baby or not."

If you decided to have an abortion, go to page 13.

If you decided to bear your baby, go to page 14.

Today, you have a very important party. There may be chance to meet a cute man who can be your new husband!! You must do your best but try not to show your desperation. You are wearing deep red dress and heels. You know that you can't beat young girls for age or freshness and you are too old to wear cutesy dress. You have to attack with full-grown appeal. You have experienced a lot of things about love. Now, after divorce, you have nothing to be afraid. The first marriage was failure. But you never give up your life. There might be someone who matches with you in this party.

The party started. There are many kinds of man, old, young, good-looking, bad-looking, quiet, noisy, athletic, artistic and so on. Suddenly, a man approached you bringing two cocktails, one is for him and another is for you.

"Having fun?" He asks you.

"Yeah, everyone looks living it up." You answer.

"I'm Ken. Nice to meet you."

"I'm Jane. Nice to meet you, too, Ken." You said.

He said,

"Actually, this is my first time to participate such a party. But it looks good."

"Really? Me too. So little bit nervous, right?" You screamed

"YES!! Thank you God!!" at your heart. He is handsome. But, it's too early to judge him whether he's nice person or not. You are not young. You have to be careful. No more divorce!! Is he really nice person? You keep talking and researching.

Does he look like a nice guy? If so go to page 8.

If not, go to page 15.

He looks like a nice guy! Also he is cute and sexy. And you feel he's having a nice impression on you, too. You found that he is an architect, 35 years old, and not having an experience of divorce. After the party, you have kept in touch with him. You were afraid of telling about your divorce but he accepted that and tried to understand. You started to think that you should marry him.

Finally, at the sixth date, he proposed you. It seems a little bit early to decide to marry. But you accepted it immediately without any hesitation. You really love and need each other.

You were blessed with two children and lived in a beautiful house. Of course he designed it for your family. Your kids were wonderful. You enjoyed their growth everyday very happily.

Now, you are 73 years old and Ken is 82. You became old but still pretty and handsome. He is very nice husband and father. When you had divorce, you never image such a happy life.

Today is your birthday. He gives you beautiful flowers and diamond neckless. He looked at you and said,

"I love you. Thank you for being with me and wonderful two children. I'm very happy"

"I love you, too," you smiled and said.

Your happy life goes on forever.

End

Your life very changed by noticing that you got pregnant. You want to bear your baby, so you counsel with your father.

You say, "Dad, I want to talk to you.... Actually, I got pregnant and want to bear my baby."

Your father says, "Really?! Who is the baby's father? Is it Mike??"

Your father persuades you to tell him about it and to have an abortion. However, you don't want to tell it to him because he remarried another woman and had a new family. Then, you haven't contacted him at all, after he remarried. You don't know where he lives now.

You say, "I can't kill my baby. If I had an abortion, I would surely regret and can't become happy. I really pity my baby. "

After all, your father allows you to bear your baby. You are glad that your father understands your consideration. You imagine that you have a baby. First, if your baby was a girl, you would name your baby "Jennifer." This is a name of the person whom you respect most. Second, you will play with your baby on every holiday. Third, you will make a happy family from anyone.

Then, you strongly live with your baby. Sometimes the problem happens, so you are tired from bring up your baby.

However, you are supported by your parents and you will become a good mother!

End

You still work hard at your company. It is The National Bank, Ltd. Your coworkers step away from you and start to bother you. However you keep advancing in your position little by little. Because of your faithful working, you finally become a secretary to the president. President, Mr. John had you on his mind. He really cares about you. He suddenly says, "Don't you think you are working hard too much? You need to rest for a while. I know you do well."

Then you think he is such a kind and sexy guy. You fall in love with him. He asked you for dinner tonight in this morning. You promise that you go to a restaurant with him. Now you are having dinner with him at a restaurant. You are both having a good time. Then he suddenly says,

"I love you."

You are very surprised.

"So...Would you marry me? I know this is crazy but I don't have much time. I'm really old but I think I need you from now on."

You are also attracted by him. You decide to marry him.

You smile and say,

"What are you talking about? I don't think it's crazy and you are old. I'm very glad to marry you. I love you, too"

End

After you succeeded your last job, your boss gets you to go to his office and he say, "I want to turn over this branch office to you. What do you think?"

You are surprised and say, "YES!" You are filled with hope to get the job started and succeeded. You work very hard so your staff follows you very well. After you are branch chief, your company's sales are larger than before. You are satisfied with your work and enjoy your life even though you have no boyfriend or husband. Of course you sometimes feel lonely but you think you do not need a guy.

Your boss praises you for your good job and he trusts you now. You get more and more good job. Twelve years have passed since you took this work. It is about time that your boss to retire from his work. Your boss then decides to turn over his company to you. Now you are the president of this company. You are the first woman president of this company. It is very big company, but you have perfect confidence in your ability of this work.

Some years have passed since you became the president. Now, you are a millionaire. You have spent your life with satisfaction of work, but you sometimes feel lonely when you got home. Of course, you have been dating with some guys and having fun with them, but nobody was suitable for your new husband. You think like "I should have looked for a perfect parson seriously and married again."

You spend whole your life alone till you are 72 years old.

End

Finally, you decide to have an abortion. You tell your parents that you are going to terminate your baby. They say, "We can't say anything. It's your life." Actually, they want to have and see their grandchild so they are sad. You know about it. You feel really sorry for them.

One week later, you go to a hospital. You are sad to lose your baby but it cannot help terminating. You have to live by yourself and back to work at the reception desk again from now on. You say sorry to your baby.

After the operation, you swear yourself to work hard so you don't take your holidays even when your coworkers are taking their holidays. You are always at the reception desk.

Someday, a managing director of this company comes to you and says, "I was checking your faithful in service. Recently, you've been doing well. Are you interested in a job as a secretary?"

"Yes, but....Why?"

You say. He wants to try you out as a secretary someday but he doesn't say anything about it. He says, "Never mind. Keep working."

You wonder about it and start working again.

You keep working hard at this company. If so, go to page 11.

Are you interested in a different job? Go to page 12.

You knew that you got pregnant few days ago, you are at a loss very much whether you had an abortion or bore your baby at that time. Finally, you made up your mind to bear your baby. However, you have many troubles. First, you don't have enough money to bear and bring up your baby. Second, the baby whose you bear doesn't have a father. You decided to bear your baby, but you worry about the future of you and your baby's lives. Then, you began to think that you shouldn't bear your baby. As time passes, you become gradually uneasy. You stop going out and don't want to meet someone.

Suddenly, the telephone rings. It was from your close friend. You think that nothing is settled, so you go to meet her.

She says, "Did you counsel with anyone? You shouldn't worry alone."

You say, "I talked to my mother, but she said that you think by yourself."

She says, "You ~~have better than to~~ talk with Mike or your father. It is ^{should} difficult and hard to solve your problem by yourself."

She gives a lot of important advice to you. Thanks to her, your feeling becomes easy.

Whatever you may have, you decide strongly that you bear and bring up your baby.

However, there is still an important thing. It is ~~which of Mike or your father you should talk with~~. You have to choose.

If you talked with your father, go to page 10

You waited until he will tell you what he wants to say, but he didn't take any action. So you decided to ask him.

"Kevin, I hate to say this, but I want to know the truth", you said when you are eating dinner.

"What can I talk you?" he said, puzzled.

"I think recently you hesitate to say something to me. If it's true, please tell me."

He smiles and says, "Don't worry, darling. I'm sure I have news, but it's not bad news. I just always got nervous when I tried to say. Actually, I want to go on our honeymoon again."

You were surprised but also happy to hear his news because you felt that he loved you. You already went on your honeymoon when you got married, but you decide to go there again.

You enjoyed second honeymoon more than first one. The honeymoon led the relationship between you and Kevin to deepen. Three years later you had two children. Then, you were surrounded around wonderful family, good husband and lovely children, and you enjoyed the rest of life.

End

You keep talking to him. But for quite a while, something is strange. While you are talking, he isn't look at you. "What happened? Is he listening?" He is looking toward behind of you. You turned back and all disgusting facts became clear. There is a beautiful young woman behind of me. She is also looking at him. And they are casting flirtatious each other. How foolish this is! You don't feel like doing anything.

"Hey!! Who you want to talk to is not me but that girl, right? Don't hold me cheap. Go ahead and talk to her."

You said to him. You feel so bad and miserable. You regret having came this party. There are a lot of couples enjoying the party around you. Before the party is over, you decided to go home. On the way to home, your expensive heel was broken and it began raining. Furthermore, there is no taxi to take you to home.

"Oh!! Today is the worst day I've ever had!!"

Now you are 43 years old. Since that day, you have had no romantic encounter. A lot of your friends get married and have children one after another. Your parents also want you to have a happy family. But there is few hope now. You find life worth living only when you're working. That's fine in your own way, but you always feel lonely. If there are not any encounters from now on, you have to live alone and pass an anxious night alone every night.
